

● overview

Seeking to cultivate leadership skills and make a meaningful impact in today's rapidly evolving world? Designed to provide individuals with high-quality specialization in all fields and subjects related to leadership, our prestigious MSc program offers a blend of theoretical knowledge and practical skills tailored to deepen the knowledge and skills needed to develop leadership and management roles in a wide range of public sectors, businesses, and communities. Students are invited to explore the principles of leadership while embracing with integrity the complexities of politics in a globalized world. Throughout our curriculum, you'll refine your ability to devise and assess organizational strategies. Engage critically with relevant literature and professional practices to enhance your leadership abilities. Enhance key skills such as self-awareness and decision-making, building confidence to tackle complex organizational challenges. Our faculty members are experienced and renowned scholars, who will provide their guidance and mentorship as you explore the nuances of ethical leadership in today's world. Get the chance to expand your professional network and create lifelong connections with peers from around the world. Greece, as the birthplace of democracy and philosophy, serves as an ideal backdrop for our program by providing a stimulating environment, full of rich history, culture, and intellectual tradition. The MSc "Leadership: Ethics and Politics" program is jointly offered by the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, the University of Kurdistan Hewlêr, Iraq, and the University of Sulaimani, Iraq, and is powered by Study in Greece (SiG).

MSc Leadership | Ethics & Politics

● career prospects

As a graduate of the "MSc Leadership: Ethics and Politics" program, you're equipped with a diverse skill set that opens doors to impactful career opportunities across various sectors. Whether you choose to work in government, non-profits, corporations, academia, or advocacy, your expertise is highly valued. Furthermore, your comprehensive understanding of leadership, ethics, and politics allows you to adapt to evolving landscapes and address emerging challenges. Graduates will receive a Diploma of Postgraduate Studies (Master of Science) in "Leadership: Ethics and Politics" from the Department of Philosophy of the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, the School of Social Sciences of the University of Kurdistan Hewlêr, and the Department of Philosophy and Cultural Studies of the College of Humanities of the University of Sulaimani.

HELLENIC REPUBLIC

National and Kapodistrian
University of Athens

— EST. 1837 —

Empowering Tomorrow's Leaders

● information

Duration of Study

18 months. Immerse yourself in 12 months of intensive study in Athens, Greece, a city renowned for its rich history, intellectual vibrancy, and cultural diversity. Then, 6 months in Erbil and/or Sulaymaniyah, where you'll explore the intricate dynamics of leadership within the context of diverse political and ethical landscapes.

Delivery method

Teaching structure consists in 75% face-to-face instruction, and 25% distance learning. Benefit from direct engagement with faculty and peers, but also enhance your learning flexibility with 25% of the program delivered online: participate in virtual discussions, and collaborate on projects from anywhere, at any time. This essentially allows for one of the three semesters – either in Athens, on in Erbil and Sulaymaniyah – to be conducted through asynchronous and/or synchronous distance teaching.

Tuition fees

4.000 € per semester | 12.000 € in total. Flexible payment options:

Pay in Advance: Secure your place in the program by paying the total tuition fee upfront.

Instalment Plan: Spread the cost over three equal instalments, payable at the beginning of each semester for your convenience.

Location

Athens, Greece (12 months) | Erbil and Sulaymaniyah, Iraq (6 months). One of the three semesters can be carried out through distance teaching methods, eliminating the need for physical presence.

Visa for non-EU citizens

Enrolment in the MSc "Leadership: Ethics and Politics" makes non-EU citizens eligible for a VISA D – category H.1 (Schengen mobility) for a 12 months stay in Greece. The administration of the Program will supply students all necessary documents and facilitate successful visa application process.

How to apply

Visit the program's website at:

<https://leadership.philosophy.uoa.gr/students/apply/>

and follow the instructions. Contact either the Secretariat or the Admissions Team for any inquiry.

Applications until Sept 29

e-mail

leadership@uoa.gr

Secretariat

secr-leadership@uoa.gr

Admissions

admissions-leadership@uoa.gr

Website

<https://leadership.philosophy.uoa.gr/>

